You Were There

Reference number PT0208

Was it in the real world?
Or was it in a dream?
Was it just a note in some eternal theme?
Was it accidental
Or accurately planned?
How could I hesitate
Knowing that my fate
Led me by the hand.

Refrain

You were there,
I saw you and my heart stopped beating;
You were there,
And in that first enchanted meeting
Life changed its tune, the stars and moon came near to me.
Dreams that I dreamed like magic seemed to be clear to me,
Dear to me.

You were there,
Your eyes looked into mine and faltered;
Ev'rywhere the colour of the whole world altered,
False became true,
My universe tumbled in two,
The earth became heaven,
for you were there.

How could we explain it,
The spark and then the fire?
How add up the total of our heart's desire?
Maybe some magician
A thousand years ago
Wove us a subtle spell
So that we could tell,
So that we could know.

Refrain

You were there,
I saw you and my heart stopped beating;
You were there,
And in that first enchanted meeting
Life changed its tune, the stars and moon came near to me.
Dreams that I dreamed like magic seemed to be clear to me,
Dear to me.

You were there,
Your eyes looked into mine and faltered;
Ev'rywhere the colour of the whole world altered,
False became true,
My universe tumbled in two,
The earth became heaven,
for you were there.
