Say Goodbye

Reference number PT0764

I am seeing my life in a way I had not Awake through your eyes I see all I've got You created a home filled with love and respect
I abused it at times made it hard to connect
In each piece of my life there's been proof of regret and the things I can't change I don't want to forget

But say goodbye to the girl who was scared to let go but who's yearning to see life outside the unknown
I am destined to prove I am ready to fly show me how to say goodbye to the old

I made work my life
Wouldn't settle for less Always fought hard to prove
That I'd be the best
I closed down my heart
Love could not come inside
That's the moment I felt
The old me start to die
a career on the rise no one else to protect
I started shedding my skin
'till there was none of me left

Say farewell to the girl who's forgotten her pride Say hello to the girl who is rising inside
She won't hold back my life can't sit here and repent
Show me how to Say Goodbye

There was a light within me
But then it started fading
I lost the someone I'd always dreamed I'd be
I need to stop pretending
That I can't change my ending
You'd never let my spirit die this way
Who says goodbye when life's just beginning

Say hello to the world
That I forgot was there
Was a pris'ner inside
Now I'm breathing the air
Yesterday's old cocoon will hatch a new butterfly
Show me how to Say Goodbye to the old
And welcome the new Goodbye
