Reference number PT0895

SOCIETY

Anyone, anyone, anyone who's anyone is here.

Ah.

Anyone, anyone, anyone who's anyone is here.

FROHMAN

From London's West End to the Great White Way
I've discovered the best playwrights working today.
You were "Wilde" about Oscar, so I gave you more,
I supported Bernard when no one was "Shaw".

May I make a toast to a man who will not boast;
he's prolific and reliable,

(spoken)

his style is undeniable.

(sung)

I trust you were impressed

SOCIETY

Yes!

FROHMAN

with his play "The Wedding Guest".

SOCIETY

Yes, yes!

FROHMAN

So raise your glasses with me:

(spoken)

the one and only J. M. Barrie!

SOCIETY

What a show! What a night!

How your words delight.

Raise a glass, raise your voice in cheer.

ENSEMBLE

All of London is here.

SOCIETY

And a toast to his wife and their perfect life.
Happy to be, Happy to be here!

BARRIE

Just listen to those cheers
even though I haven't had a new idea in years.
I need to find the spark inside to lead me somewhere new.
If I can somehow turn this all around,
I'd turn my whole world upside down.

MARY

James, are you feeling alright?
Get yourself together, all of London's here tonight.
Try at least to be the man who's worthy of his fame,
tonight they're here to celebrate your name.
Let's drink Champagne.

BARRIE

Is this all I am?

FROHMAN, MARY & SOCIETY

What a show, what a night, have your worst delight

BARRIE

Have I given this all I can give?

Is this who I am?

FROHMAN, MARY & SOCIETY
