

www.practicetracks.co.uk

If She Were Coming Home

Reference number PT0926

If she were coming home, I wouldn't have another drink.
If she were coming home, I'd do the dishes piled in my sink.
    And I'd hang up all my shirts
    and pick my dirty socks up off the floor.
    But she's not coming home anymore.

If she were coming back I would tidy up the place.
    If she were coming back
    there's a chance I might even shave my face.
    And I'd throw on that cologne
    she gave me at Christmas time last year.
    But she's not coming back, not here

It isn't like I need women to make me do ev'ry single chore.
    I just need someone to do all those little things for.

If she were on her way, I'd pop that champagne we have on ice.
If she were on her way, I'd get our kitchen table looking nice.
    And I'd make her favorite meal
    or whatever it would take to make her stay.
    But she's not coming home.
    And she's not coming back.
    And she's not on her way.